PEKING, China, Nov. 9.—The Associated Press is authorized to state without reservation that China has decided not to change the form of government this year.

KIOTO, Japan, Nov. 9.—The Powers have been assured by Japan officials in a position to speak that there is no intention to make any sort of a military demonstration against China should the monarchy be established.

It is reported here that President Yuan Shih-Kai intends to proclaim himself emperor on November 16, the date of the first Japanese coronation feast. This report is seriously displeasing to the Japanese.

GUilty ON ONE CHARGE IS PLEA OF MARCALLINO

John Marcallino, former clerk in Circuit Judge Whitney's court, this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock pleaded guilty in Judge Ashford's court to one of the four charges of embezzlement made against him after his affairs had been investigated by the grand jury.

Plea on the other three indictments was reserved until next Saturday afternoon, at which time it is probable Marcallino will be sentenced on his plea of guilty on one count, made this afternoon.

The indictment to which Marcallino pleaded guilty today charged that on or about May 21, this year, he converted to his own use a certificate of stock No. 731 for 100 shares of the stock of the Honolulu Brewing & Malting Company, valued at $1500 and owned by Julia Bishop Egan.

The second indictment charges that he converted to his own use a certificate of stock of the Honolulu Brewing & Malting Company, No. 735, for 100 shares of the capital stock of the corporation, valued at $1500 and owned by Julia Bishop Egan.

In the third indictment it is charged that Marcallino converted to his own use a certificate numbered 3744 for 30 shares of the capital stock of the Oahu Railway & Land Company, valued at $5400 and owned by Julia Bishop Egan. The fourth indictment charges that Marcallino converted to his own use a stock certificate numbered 3459 for nine shares of the capital stock of the Oahu Railway & Land Company, valued at $5400 and owned by Julia Bishop Egan.

JUDGE STUART WOULD IGNORE LAW—PINKHAM

Governor of Territory Makes Reply to Circuit Judge's Formal Charge

"WOULD TURN LAND TO SPECULATORS," HE SAYS

Denies That Stuart Knows Conditions on Oahu; He Never Went to Other Islands

"Judge Stuart has signed a homestead agreement and does not wish to carry out his voluntary agreement, but wishes the governor and land commissioner to consent to a course that would destroy true homesteading and turn our lands over to speculators."—Excerpt from Governor Pinkham's reply to Judge Stuart's charges.

Governor Pinkham this afternoon made the following written answer to the charges made by Judge T. B. Stuart in a writ of mandamus issued late yesterday.

"Judge Stuart's assertions are nothing new.

"Judge Stuart began writing concerning Hawaiian lands within a few weeks after arriving in Honolulu.

"He sent copies to the interior department which were sent back, reaching me about the date of my arrival here as governor.

"Very considerably over a year since he made similar assertions to those he now makes, in the interior department, and, if my memory serves me right, in January or February he repeated them. I replied in both instances.

ANY OLD CHEFA TICKET PROVES HOLDER GUILTY

Time of Drawing and Name of Bank Not Necessary, Judge Monsarrat's Ruling

What is probably the most important decision in regard to gambling ever rendered in the police court was made this morning, when Judge James M. Monsarrat ruled that the prosecution does not need to show what bank a chefa ticket is on or when the drawing will take place in order to secure conviction under the ordinance relating to having lottery tickets in possession.

Judge Monsarrat stated in rendering his decision that the possession of a lottery ticket was prima facie evidence of guilt, and that the defendant must prove that the ticket is for a drawing which is past, or is on a bank not in existence, in order to secure an acquittal.

Attorney W. T. Rawlins, representing several chefa defendants, took exception to the ruling and declared that he would take the cases to the supreme court.

Rawlins, in the case of George Lobo, raised the point that the prosecution had not shown that the ticket found in his client's possession depended upon a game of chance. Testimony, he said, had been introduced to prove it was a chefa ticket, but if the drawing had already taken place it was not a lottery ticket any longer. He insisted it was necessary for the prosecution to show the ticket might still draw a prize, and prove what bank it was issued from. This point has been fought over for months, while chefa cases piled upon the calendar, and was settled this morning as far as the police court is concerned by the decision of Judge Monsarrat.

Decision of Big Importance.

C. F. Chillingworth, assistant city attorney, and Arthur McDuffie, chief of detectives, both said today that had Judge Monsarrat decided it must be proved what bank a chefa ticket was issued by before conviction could be secured, it would leave that bank helpless as far as stopping lotteries is concerned. Chefa tickets are unmarked, and as there is no possible way of proving where they are issued, any other decision than the one made today would have practically licensed chefa playing.

Thirty cases, some of them first brought up as long ago as July, have been held over from time to time until a decision was made on the point brought up by Attorney Rawlins. All of these were on the calendar today, and fines of $25 and costs were imposed in a number of the cases. A few were continued, and this afternoon the court is still taking up the rest of the cases and in most instances is imposing the usual fine.

Grandmother Asks To Be Made Baby Millionaire Smart's Guardian

Little Richard Smart. Photo taken a few months ago when he was the center of noted litigation. His grandmother now declares that his dead father's relatives "have no love or devotion for him."

A new development came today in the story of Thelma Parker, the Hawaiian heiress, and Henry Oillard Smart, the young Virginian who was appointed guardian of Little Richard Smart, the baby son of the late Thelma Parker. Mrs. Oillard Smart, the mother, died a year ago this month in San Francisco, the father died last Tuesday at Charlottesville, Va., and the baby Richard is sole heir to the Parker millions.

Now the baby's grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Knight, is petitioning that she be appointed guardian of Little Richard, while with her in San Francisco. And her petition filed this morning in the district court through her attorney, J. C. Wilder, she declares "that Richard Smart's relatives on his father's side are alien to him and have no affection, love or devotion for him."

Under the terms of the compromise.

FOLLOW VENTURA CLEAR TO SYDNEY WITH WIRELESS

Federal Company Hopes to Establish New Pacific Record; Transmit 2345 Miles

Out at the Federal Telegraph Company's wireless plant at Kaneohe, where the big steel towers loom up to the sky, company operators will try tonight and tomorrow to keep in touch with the Oceanic steamer Ventura as it steams nearer to Sydney. If they succeed in doing this until the ship reaches Australia, they will have established a new record for the Pacific, as concerns communication between land stations and ships at sea.

Manager W. Y. Nolley of the Federal made an announcement this morning relative to the remarkable achievement of late yesterday afternoon, when a second trial succeeded in establishing communication with the Ventura when she was 2345 miles from this port, and 32 miles the other side of Pago Pago. This is a better record than that made Sunday night, when the plant was in touch with the boat 2120 miles away, and is more remarkable in view of the fact that it was made in the daytime, when conditions are less favorable for transmission than at night. The Ventura left here a week ago yesterday.

The message of yesterday afternoon, sent about 4 o'clock, established distinct communication, and messages were exchanged between the Ventura and the Federal's Kaneohe plant. The steamer reported that she had left Pago Pago at 3 o'clock (Pago Pago time) and that all on board were well. "The Ventura's equipment is the Poulsen system," said Manager Nolley today, in speaking of the successful interchange of messages. "An improved apparatus was installed on the ship about a month ago and we don't know yet just how far it will carry. We are going to try and hold her until she gets into Sydney. If we can do that, it will be a Pacific record, as the distance from Honolulu to Sydney is 4424 miles.

As a result of yesterday's tests, the Federal is now accepting messages for transmission to the Ventura when she is within 2400 miles of this port. The former limit on messages to this ship was 2000 miles. The Ventura's equipment means she can keep in touch with Honolulu from the moment she leaves San Francisco for this port, if necessary. The local plant hopes to

GEN. WUDAN ARRESTED HERE AS ANARCHIST

Col. Gen. D. J. Wudan, former chief of staff for Dr. Sun Yat Sen and more recently an active worker in Honolulu for the Nationalist party and for Dr. Sun, was arrested early this afternoon on a United States government warrant and as the Star-Bulletin went to press was held at the U. S. immigration station, bail of $1000 being demanded.

The arrest was made by Inspector Harry Brown, under the instructions of Inspector in Charge Bailey, whose own instructions, it is understood, came from Washington. Gen. Wudan is charged with being an anarchist, with advocating the overthrow of government and with being an enemy of law and order.

GERMAN OFFICIAL CABLEGRAMS

The following cablegram from official German sources was received early today:

"German Headquarters Report, Nov. 8.—In the west, on the Vesges front, the Germans have occupied French positions northeast of Calais and on Hillensbrun. West of Douai, Lieut. Immelemaun shot down the sixth of the enemy air craft, an English Bristol biplane armed with three machine guns.

"On the east, Gen. von Hindenberg has repulsed Russian attacks south and southeast of Riga, and west of Jacobstadt, in front of Duenaburg.

"Gen. von Linsingen has repulsed Russian attacks northwest of Gzartorysk, taking prisoner 271 Russians.

"In the Balkans Austro-Hungarian troops have reached Ivanica. German troops have occupied Krusovac, 3000 Serbians being taken, besides 1900 wounded in the hospitals, ten cannons and plenty of ammunition. The western Morava valley has been changed in several places between Krusovac and Krusovac and the Teutons are in Krusovac."

TODAY'S SITUATION.

The following cablegram from official German sources was received this afternoon:

"German Headquarters Report, Nov. 9.—Gen. von Hindenberg on the east has repulsed Russian attacks. On November 7 the Russians occupied a small part of the German first line west of Duenaburg. A German counter attack has now ejected the Russians, 373 being imprisoned. Gen. von Linsingen in a successful combat north of Komarov captured 350 Russians.

"In the Balkans the Russians have conquered the Serbian main positions south of Kralievo and south of Krusovac and continue advancing. They have also stormed Gyulins heights, on the left bank of the southern Morava river. The war booty at Krusovac has increased to 50 cannons, among which are 10 heavy guns. There are now 7000 prisoners.

"Gen. Boyadoff's Bulgarian army has reached the southern Morava, threatened the Austrians and west southwest of Nish. The army has also occupied Leskovac, together with other Bulgarian troops."

GUBERNATORIAL YARN SQUELCHED BY MR. PINKHAM

Governor Pinkham this afternoon squelched the rumor of his supposed resignation with a short, emphatic and final:

"It is absolutely false."

Capitol and court circles tangled today with the rumor that Governor Pinkham may resign on account of ill health and also with rumors of men who might be possibilities in case the rumor should prove true.

By the governor's friends the rumor was instantly branded as preposterous. One of them termed it "only a wild pipe dream of somebody's."

It was pointed out in the first place that the governor has the confidence of Washington and strong support for his administration, and in the second place that he is not in ill health, but is remaining at home to recuperate for his Washington trip, his physical disability making it necessary for him to husband his strength.

Where the report began it is impossible to say, but it sprung out with much vigor.

One of the contributory rumors was that Attorney A. A. Wilder was going to Washington in connection with the possible vacancy. Judge Wilder, however, explained on inquiry that he is going to Washington on other business, leaving here November 17.

"But," he added, "I hear that Mr. Pinkham may resign and if there is to be a vacancy, then I am a candidate and will so inform Secretary

REPORT GERMAN AGENTS STIR HINDUS AND EGYPTIANS; WAR IN SERBIA MAY BE DEADLOCK

TEUTONS HOLD TWO-THIRDS OF SERB COUNTRY BUT ALLIES AND NATIVES CHECKING INVASION—RUSSIANS REPORT ADVANCE IN RIGA SECTION—GREECE DIVIDED OVER WAR POLICY—GERMAN SUBMARINES PLAY HAVOC IN MEDITERRANEAN

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 9.—Serious unrest in India, together with a like critical situation in Egypt, is reported to have been the prime cause for the departure of Lord Kitchener, war minister, from London. His objective was said to be the Balkans but it is now rumored that he is en route to India, where the natives have deposed the Nizam of Hyderabad, who was a supporter of the government.

It is rumored also that Kitchener will probably visit Egypt, where the Teutons and Turks menace the Suez Canal. It is reported that German agents are stirring the Egyptians and Hindus to revolt and that the situation is a seriously alarming one.

The Nizam of Hyderabad (Hyderabad) is the ruler of one of the largest native states in India, occupying the greater part of the Deccan plateau of Southern India. Hyderabad has an area of more than 50,000 square miles and a population of about 11,000,000. The Nizam is a Mohammedan prince of an old dynasty. The population is mostly Mohammedan. If the Nizam has been deposed, a serious situation is indicated.

Serbia Dominated By Teutons But Invasion Is Now Being Checked

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 9.—The Teuton and Bulgarian invaders now control two-thirds of all Serbia, as a result of their victories in the north and east, culminating in the capture of Nish by the Bulgars.

Soon the invaders will be in full control of the railroad from Nish to Belgrade and thus will have a second route almost opened to Constantinople.

On the other fronts in Serbia, where the Allies have reinforced the Serbs, the invasion has weakened and in Macedonia the French and German troops have been winning consistently. They are opposed here mostly by the Bulgarians.

German Submarines Busy In New Zone

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)

ALGIERS, Algeria, Nov. 9.—Wreaking havoc in the Mediterranean, German submarines are sinking vessels of the Allies. One of the feats of the Germans is the sinking of the French steamer Yser, which was carrying passengers. The Yser was formerly the American liner Dacia, which sailed from New York for Rotterdam and was seized by the French last February, the case being a notable one in the international disputes over the commercial blockade.

A submarine also sunk the Italian steamship Elisa Francisca. All those on the vessels have been rescued.

French Liner Safe; Goes On Way

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 9.—The French liner Rochembeau has extinguished the fire found in the reserve coal bunkers, according to wireless information received by the agents from the vessel. The Rochembeau does not find it necessary to put into Halifax, the fire being entirely out, and is proceeding on her course to Bordeaux. It is thought here the fire was possibly incendiary. The liner carried a large shipment of cartridges.

Greece Divided Over War Policy

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 9.—It is reported that the Grecian government will formally dissolve the chamber of deputies unless the chamber supports the Zaimis cabinet in carrying out King Constantine's plan of neutrality. The chamber recently passed a vote of lack of confidence in the cabinet but the king has retained Zaimis. Greece is much divided over a national policy toward the war.

Italy May Aid Serbia In Albania

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 9.—A semi-official note sent by Italy to the other Entente Allies hints that Italy may aid Serbia in her war. Italy's aid would be for the purpose of meeting the threatened Bulgarian invasion of Albania, the object of which is to reach the Adriatic sea and ultimately to strengthen Austria's position in the war against Italy.

Greece Neutral "With Benevolence"

PARIS, France, Nov. 9.—The French government has received an assurance from Greece that the Greek attitude will be neutrality "with a character of the sincerest benevolence toward the Entente Allies."

Russia Reports Progress At Riga

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 9.—Russian army officials continue to report advances made by their troops in the Riga and Dvinsk section, where Gen. von Hindenberg has been stopped in his drive.
